

Andrew Oliver Waterhouse's Little Book
of
GREAT WONDERS.

A, stands for Andrew, who talks pretty well

B, stands for Barnet,† who ringeth the bell.

C, stands for College, for Cow, & for Calf.

D, stands for Dunce, who does nothing but laugh.

E, stands for Elbows, for Ears, & for Eyes

F, stands for F'lovn to make puddings & pies.

G, stands for George, who is handfom & cleaver.

H, stand for Hog, who eateth fore ever.

I, stands for Ink-horn, as black as my shoe.

J, stand for Jonney, who crieth Ah ye!

K, stands, for Key, for Knife, & for Knowledge

L, stands for Learning, that's dug out of college

M, stand, for Mother, for MONEY, & more. —

N, stands for Nincum,‡ who cries at the door.

O, stands for Orange, just brought up from town.

P, stands for "pick up", when things tumble down

†. The Sexton of our Church. & alias Andrew,

THE GREAT WESTERN RAILWAY

GREAT WESTERN RAILWAY

Table with multiple columns and rows of faint text, likely a schedule or list of stations. The text is mostly illegible due to fading and bleed-through.

Q, stands for quarter & Quince, upon y.<sup>e</sup> shelf
R, stands for Rogue, who eat<sup>it</sup> himself.
S, stands for somebody,† not very good
T, stands for Tongues, to put up the wood.
U, stands for UNITED STATES, never to fail
W, for Washington, who governs them all.
X, looks like the saw: horse, that stands in the <sup>barn</sup>
Y, is a Youngster, w.th stockings of Yarn.
Z, the Man who boils over with Zeal.
& looks as if tied neck & heel. !

— And thus it is My Dear Great Uncle! that to principles apparently so trivial as about 24 elementary sounds, we owe that variety of articulate voices, which have been sufficient to explain the sentiments of so innumerable a multitude,
as all the present & past generations of Men!, and yet your little Nephew, knows
them

† Same, the boy in the kitchen

them all! Brother Jonney Fothergill M.D., F.R.S., &c. &c. &c. speaks hebrew so fast that our Professor can hardly understand him. In about a year we propose to learn him english.

Accept my thanks for the pretty book
you sent me. In return I consign over to you all my right & title to this manu-script, w<sup>ch</sup> you may get Mr. Newberry to publish without fear of prosecution from your affectionate
Little Nephew

Andrew Oliver Watchouse Secret
God save the King!

Andrew Oliver Waterhouse
to
His Great Uncle
Peter Oliver Esq.
in
Old England —

God save the King!

Accept my thanks for the pretty book
you sent me. In return I consign over to you all my right & title to the man-
-script, in; you may get Mr Newbery to print it without fear of profane pen your affectionate
Little Nephew

them all! Brothers Johnny, Fothergill M.D. F.R.S. &c. &c. speaks hebrew
so fast that our Professor can hardly understand him. In about a year we propose to learn him english.

Andrew Oliver Waterhouse
to
His Great Uncle
Peter Oliver Esq.
in
Old England.

Andrew Oliver Waterhouse's
Little Book
of
GREAT WONDERS.

- A, stands for Andrew, who talks pretty well
- B, stands for Barret, who ringeth the bell.
- C, stands for College, for Cow, & for Calf
- D, stands for Dunce, who does nothing but laugh.
- E, stands for Elbows, for Ears, & for Eyes
- F, stands for F'lovn to make puddings & pies.
- G, stands for Geordie, who is handsome & clean.
- H, stand for Hog, who eateth forever.
- I, stands for Ink-horn, as black as my shoe.
- J, stand for Jonney, who crieth Ah gu!
- K, stands, for Key, for Knife & for Knowledge
- L, stands for Learning, that's dug out of college
- M, stand, for Mother, for MONEY, & more.
- N, stands for Nincum, who crieth at the door.
- O, stands for Orange, just brought up from town.
- P, stands for pick up, when things tumble down

*. The Sexton of our Church. & alias Andrew

Q, stands for quarter & Quince, upon y.<sup>e</sup> shelf
R, stands for Rogue, who eat<sup>it</sup> himself.
S, stands for somebody † not very good
T, stands for Tongues, to put up the wood.
U, stands for UNITED STATES, never to fail
W, for Washington, who governs them all.
X, looks like the saw: horse, that stands in the <sup>barn</sup>
Y, is a Youngster, wth stockings of Yarn -
Z, the Man who boils over with Zeal.
& Cooks as if tied neck & heel. !

— And thus it is My Dear Great
Uncle! that to principles apparently so trivial as about 24 elementary sounds, we owe that variety of articulate voices, which have been sufficient to explain the fentiments of so innumerable a multitude,
as all the present & past generations of Men!, and yet your little Nephew, knows
them

† Sam, the boy in the kitchen